THE ANT'S TOILET.

An Insect Worth Studying—An Example of Cleanliness as Well as of Industry.

[From the Chicago Daily News.]
The agricultural art of America, writes the Rev. H. C. McCook in the "Proceedings of the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia," is one of the neatest and tidiest of creatures in her personal habits. Out of the numbers he had imprisoned for observation he never saw one long in an untidy state. When, after some very active work in digging, little particles of earth would adhere to their bodies; these were at once most carefully removed. The whole body, too, is most thoroughly and frequently cleansed, a duty which is habitually attended to after eating and after sleep. In this duty these ants now and then assist one another, and when a general "washing up" is in progress it is

AN EXCEEDINGLY INTERESTING SIGHT.

The ant to whom the friendly office is being administered (the cleansed, she may be called) is leaning over upon one side as we begin the observation. The cleanser, as the other party may be called, is in the act of lifting the fore leg, which is the first which is licked, the cleanser's mouth passing steadily from it up to the body, then over the neck, then the head, the little jaws (mandibles) being at this stage held apart for the more convenient manipulation; from the face the operation passes to the body, along one side, each leg being attended to in succession; then to the other side and the other set of legs. All this while the creature being cleansed is evincing the most intense satisfaction, and in this resembles a family dog when one is scratching the back of his neck; she rolls gently over on her side, sometimes quite over on her back, and presents altogether a PICTURE OF EASE.

The pleasure which these creatures take in being thus "combed" and "sponged" is really enjoyable to the observer. Several times an ant wanting to be cleansed was seen to approach a comrade, kneel down before it, and, thrusting forward its head, then drop down and lie there motionless, expressing as plainly as sign language could, her desire to be attended to. The ants, when engaged in cleansing their own bodies, have various modes of operating. The fore legs are drawn between the mandibles and also apparently through the lips, and then are passed alternately to the back of the head and over and down the forehead and face by a motion which closely resembles that of a cat when cleansing with her paw the corresponding part of her head.

The Indian's Harvest.

From the Truckee Republican.
In Sierra valley and Martin valley, the Indian huts can be seen, and in and around them are congregated the warriors and squaws of the tribe, their sisters, cousins and their aunts, all intent upon the accomplishment of the grand result. As usual, the squaws do the work while their noble lords loiter upon the grassward, smoke their pipes and dreamily and lazily gaze upon the countless myriads of buzzing hoppers that fill the air and devour the vegetation. The squaws carrying cone shaped baskets of great capacity, scoop the grasshoppers with a fan-shaped implement into their baskets, and when loaded carry the wiggling mass of insects to camp, and then prepare them for food. The grasshoppers killed, and subsequently dried are mixed with mashed pine nuts or cracked wheat and made into a kind of flour, which is afterwards made into a bread most delicious to the palate of the Washoe. White visitors at the camp are always invited in accordance with Indian hospitality to partake of the compound, and great is the astonishment of poor Lo at the disgust expressed by the white man for this kind of food. To the limited mind of the Indian it is incomprehensible that any one should reject food which in his vernacular is defined as being "muchee good—wano to hell."

Flavoring Meat on the Hoof.
From the Pacific Rural Press.

M. Moncler, a noted agriculturist in France, advocates the flavoring of meat on foot, by appropriate feeding. He says that by flavoring the food of cattle, sheep, pigs and poultry, their flesh may be rendered much more agreeable to the palate than it often is. He is substantially right, for reasoning by contraries, we know that rabbits, quail, deer, etc., which feed and browse upon the artemisia and bitter weeds have a disagreeable flavor when eaten. Any flavor may be given the meat—mint, anise, thyme, etc., and several tastes may be given the meat, or a compound flavor may be added by a variety of flavors of any selection. For invalids particularly, or for epicurean palates, the common meaty flavor can be modified in flavor to suit the palate, and the aversion to healthy, nutritious meat be overcome by a delicious conglomeration of sweet flavors. We hope to see the experiment tried in our State.

A Card.
To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, etc., I will send a recipe that will cure you, FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City. dec-15

WHY EVE HAD NO SERVANT.

The Exemplary Behaviour of Adam in Paradise.

A lady writer in one of our exchanges furnishes some of the reasons why Eve did not keep a hired girl. She says:

There has been a great deal said about the faults of women, and why they need so much waiting on. Some one (a man, of course) has the presumption to ask, "Why, when Eve was manufactured of a spare rib, a servant was not made at the same time to wait upon her?" She didn't need any. A bright writer has said, Adam never came whining to Eve with a ragged stocking to be darned, buttons to be sewed on, gloves to be mended, "right away—quick—now!" Because he never read the newspapers till the sun went down behind the palm trees, and he, stretching himself, yawned out, "Isn't supper ready, my dear?" Not he. He made the fire, and hung the kettle over it himself, we'll venture, and pulled the radishes, peeled the potatoes, and did everything else he ought to do.

HE MILKED THE COWS, fed the chickens, and looked after the pigs himself, and never brought half a dozen friends to dinner when Eve hadn't any fresh pomegranates. He never stayed out till 11 o'clock at night, and then scolded because poor Eve was sitting up and crying inside the gates. He never loafed around the corner groceries while Eve was rocking little Cain's cradle at home. He did not call Eve up from the cellar to get his slippers, and put them in the corner, where he left them. Not he. When he took them off, he put them under the fig tree beside his Sunday boots. In short, he did not think she was especially created for the purpose of waiting on him, and he wasn't under the impression that it disgraced a man to lighten a wife's cares a little. That's the reason Eve did not need a hired girl, and with it was the reason her descendants did.

The Ludicrous Side of It.
From the Boston Advertiser.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The National Board of Health was taken quite unawares by reports from Memphis. It had no information on the subject until the arrival of the press reports. This has a ludicrous side, since the board, as one of the first things after its organization, formally resolved that it would give no information of its operations to the press, or to any one who would be likely to give the information to the press; so when they heard all about Memphis in the newspapers first, and then rushed their messengers off to the newspaper offices to see if they could hear anything further about their specialty, there was a general laugh at the expense of these very exclusive gentlemen.

THURSDAY, JULY 24, 1899.
HISTORY OF THE DONNER PARTY.

A copy of the "History of the Donner Party," by C. F. McGlashan, of the Truckee Republican, has been received at this office. The narrative of the terrible hardships and sufferings of the ill-fated company is graphically told in this volume. Many volumes have been written concerning the perils and privations undergone by explorers in the Arctic regions. But there never yet was penned a story of more thrilling interest than that of this handful of people, snow-bound in the wilds of the Sierra during the whole of a bitter winter. The tale reveals some of the darkest phases of human nature. Some have objected to the author's strict fidelity to truth displayed in the work, but a history should not suppress any material facts, if it aims at historical excellence.

RE-REVIVED.

A new paper is to be started in San Francisco, to be an eight-page daily, the size and style of the Chicago Tribune. It will be called either the Morning Herald or the Republican Herald, and will be a stalwart. It aspires to unite the somewhat scattered Republican hosts in a more compact army. Its direct attack will be upon the Chronicle. It will go after its advertisements as well as subscriptions in a particularly aggressive manner. An agent has gone east to arrange for the telegraphic news.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The San Francisco Post is now using its Comstock maps for wrappers. They are excellent maps—for the purpose.

The Pioche Record has not been received at this office for many weeks.

PACIFIC COAST ITEMS.

The stumpage on some timber land near Astoria averages $100 per acre. A new town called Crystal has been started on Salmon river, 23 miles south of Challis.

From all parts of Eastern Oregon comes the report that grass was never better or stock fatter.

Indian raids along the Yellowstone are getting frequent. Horse stealing seems to be their object.

Eagle Lake, Modoc county, Cal., has been stocked with white fish by the Fish Commissioners.

A 22 mile road is to be built from Alleghany City to Nevada City, Cal. The distance is now 34 miles.

Rafael Carasco recently brought a 1200 pound grizzly bear into Los Angeles, which he had killed near there.

The South Pacific Coast Railroad will run through from San Francisco to Santa Cruz about October 1st.

A fire in Ogden, Monday night, destroyed $4000 in grain and farm machinery. A tramp is supposed to have set it.

Potatoes are so cheap in Tulare county that it does not pay to dig them, except in places where they are so large that a dozen would fill a sack.

There are 20,000 acres of land sown to alfalfa in Fresno county, this year, and so popular has it become that twice that area will be sown next year.

The Modoc Independent says: Judge Bowmer has a hardy variety of watermelon on his place. Although planted June 1st, it has grown thickly without irrigation.

O. K. Harrison, a honey producer, of Grass Valley, states that a quarter of an acre in misquonette will feed 50 swarms of bees; which will make 10,000 pounds of honey per season.

Frank Smith, an old stage driver at Merced, walked out of the second story door of a livery stable on the 20th, and broke one of his legs. While on the ground he was robbed of $20.

A lady residing in Washington, Yolo county, Cal., threw a lot of brandy peaches to her chickens last week, and in ten minutes she was astonished to see the whole of them dead drunk.

An irrigation canal is being excavated in Mono county, Cal. It is four miles long, and will carry fifty-six square feet of water. The water is taken from Rush creek, one mile below Gull Lake.

The farmers on the lower part of the Yuba river, says the Grass Valley Union, are making preparations to commence another "shookens" suit, which will be against the hydraulic companies of Smartsville, and of the upper portions of Nevada county, which run mining tailings into that stream.

The quick, mushroom-like growth of Leadville, was one of the most wonderful instances of the kind in the history of the United States. But very few of its three thousand houses are a year old. Its population is about 15,000. It has a paid police department, a fire company, a municipal form of government, three daily papers, three banks, two theaters, and hundreds of saloons.

STATE NEWS IN BRIEF.

Empire is full of wood drivers and whiskey. This is the healthiest summer Eureka has ever had.

Winnemucca is obliged to economize water this dry season. Three hundred skilled laborers are out of employment in Eureka.

Tuesday was the hottest day of the season in Eureka. Thermometer 95 in the shade.

A secret society has been organized in Eureka, whose object is to make the Chinese go.

W. Millan, of Gold Hill, was thrown from his horse near Sutro last Tuesday and badly bruised.

A recent strike in the Lucky Dog mine, it is thought, will create a mining revival in Unionville.

R. F. Baber's little boy Frank entered a cattle corral at Camp McDermitt and was trampled to death by an angry steer.

George Bobier has departed from Elko, leaving his family behind him. The affair looks dark to the Elko Independent.

The match between Miss Von Berg and Madam Tourtelott will come off at Piper's Opera House, Virginia City, about the first of next month.

The president and secretary of the Eureka Coal Burners' Association have resigned. They disclaim all sympathy with the extreme course of the strikers.

The air hangs heavy with the rumors of a scandal in high life, the developments of which will shake our social fabric to the very center, says the Elko Independent.

The Scorpion Company have commenced work on a large shaft on the north side of Seven-mile Canyon, at a point where the croppings swing far out to the east.

Austin boy dove into pond to take a swim. Heels remained sticking out of water. Was pulled out, and head found to have been imbedded in mud a foot deep. Austin boy looks before he leaps now.

Threats of lynching Pritchard, the murderer of Symons, having been heard by Sheriff Williamson of Virginia, he took Pritchard to Carson Tuesday night and lodged him in the state prison.

The ears of Carson ladies who walk unattended in the streets at evening are saluted with "vile and ungrammatical comments upon their appearance." The Appeal recommends the application of the reformatory tar.

A Carson dead beat tried to frighten his mistress by emptying a small vial of poison down his throat. Woman laughed, and he vanished, gnashing his teeth in the shades of night. Vial picked up, containing traces of bad brandy. Very slow poison.

The Virginia Chronicle states that Madam Tourtelott is in Virginia, and that she has challenged Edwards and Von Berg to a walking match for $500 each. Von Berg has accepted the challenge, and is now on the Comstock, but Edwards has not yet been heard from.

Hon. Wm. E. Chandler, of New Hampshire, Secretary of the National Republican Committee, says the Eureka Sentinel, who figured in the counting of the vote of Florida for Hayes, arrived in town last night and proposes to visit White Pine for the purpose of examining some mines in which he is interested. He is an ardent Blaine man, and predicts that Maine's "favorite son" will be the next occupant of the White House.

The petty larceny business, says the Nevada, appears to be rapidly on the increase throughout the State, as is to be inferred from the many complaints of the local newspapers. The drought and the off-political year may have something to do with it. Some men become desperate when there is no free whiskey to be had, and thrown on their own resources.

The Battle Mountain Messenger thus comments on the sun: "The ever changing glorious golden sun sets free to all that look westward at the close of each day, here are uncomparably superior to any Italian comparisons. Don't miss enjoying their evening blessings."

Every adult man has 1400 square feet of lungs; rather, the mucous membrane lining the air cells of his lungs, if spread upon a smooth, plain surface, would cover an extent of 1400 square feet.

A tramp never tires an eelskin around his leg to prevent cramps while bathing. He knows a preventive worth two of that. He never bathes.

Talk is Cheap. And so are fine clothing, boots, shoes and gentlemen's and boys' fine furnishings goods. If you go to the right place to get them. This is a mighty important point, for some people who assert that they sell cheap do nothing of the kind. We do not boast when we say that we defy competition in prices in anything in our line. Besides, this we have only one price. We have no preferred customers. Everybody is treated alike at our establishment. Our stock is the largest and most complete ever offered in any part of this state. Everything we have is new. No old, musty, and out-of-date goods can be found on our shelves. We receive daily by rail and express the latest and best goods, which are obtained at first hand and sold at prices below those now prevailing in New York and Chicago. Let the people come and judge of our prices, and examine our stock before going into those humbugging cheap John shops. In which they drum into the ear of the customer that they sell at cost and even below cost. Anybody with common sense must know that they lie. No storekeeper sells goods for the fun of the thing, we make a profession of selling, as every honest merchant does, and don't print foolish falsehoods in the vain hope of deceiving the public. We particularly call attention to our full stock of fancy underwear, such as is kept nowhere else in Reno. This class of goods forms one of our specialties. Remember the place, the White House, No. 10 Commercial Row.

A Tar Flat Idyl.

—Oh, Robin tell Kitty I'm coming.

He softly sang as he wended his way with blithesome step to a cottage in the Western Addition. Just as he reached the front gate he heard the idyl of his thoughts say: "I hope that red-headed fool with the green neck-tie won't come hanging around here to-night." The amorous hum died on the young man's lips, and he went to a 5-cent beer saloon and drank sixty cents worth of Boca to appease his wrath. He returned home about 4 o'clock A. M., looking like a Comstock journalist and singing, "I've got no wife to bother my life," and told his room-mate that he believed that after a man passed a certain age his affection for woman began to die.

SHARP SWINDLERS.

Combination Stock Operations in Gotham Gathering in Unsuspecting Nevadans.

Twice in the history of the present management of the GAZETTE, proposals have been refused, which came accompanied with checks to pay for inserting advertisements of combination stock operations. The notices were to run in reading matter, and in ordinary type, and were to be changed every three or four days. The inviolable rule of the GAZETTE, not to run advertisements in the type used for reading matter, is a great protection to the public, and is never deviated from. The style of the cards mentioned, reveal fraud so clearly, that it is surprising that it could impose on any one, and yet it seems that such is the case. A certain Renoite sent $20 to a agency, and became a stockholder for one month to the extent of twenty shares. The certificate returned, was dated New York, June 16th, 1879, and contains such provisions as these: "Statements of transactions will be mailed all shareholders weekly, and at the expiration of one month from date this combination will be closed, and profits divided pro rata among shareholders. No part of profits or original capital to be withdrawn until close of combination. Profits and original investments to be used as working capital until close of combination. The holder of this certificate is not liable, in any event, for more than the original price paid for shares and profits." The weekly report has a notice that no part of principal or profits can be repurchased. It must all go in, or none. The report for the week ending June 23, sent to the Reno investor, is printed in letter form, and the figures are as follows: Turns made—Del. Lack. & W., gain 1/2 per cent.; Del. & Hudson, loss 1/2 per cent.; N. J. Central, loss 1/2 per cent.; Northwestern, gain 1/2 per cent.; St. Paul, loss 1/2 per cent. Net gain, 1 1/2 per cent.; net loss, 1 per cent. Balance gain, 1/2 per cent., which is equal to on twenty shares, of $12.50. Now comes, June 30th, report No. 2. Turns made—Morris & Essex, gain 1 1/2 per cent.; N. J. Central, loss 1/2 per cent.; Northwestern, loss 1/2 per cent.; St. Paul, loss 1/2 per cent.; Western Union, gain 1 1/2 per cent. Net gain, 2 1/2 per cent.; net loss, 2 per cent. Balance gain, 1/2 per cent., equivalent to a profit on twenty shares of $17.50, or, for the two weeks, $30, or 150 per cent. on the original investment. But fortune is fickle, and reverses come to the ablest managers. The stock sharp of the combination made 1/2 of one per cent. on Western Union the third week, but lost 1/2 on Wabash, taking 1/2 of one per cent. off the profits of the customers for whom he had so faithfully labored for the two previous weeks. From Reno's $30 profits, $5 were thus sliced off. In his struggles to get back the $5 and something over, so as to have the pleasure of sending a handsome check to every customer, covering each one's original investment and about a thousand per cent. profits,

NEW YORK COMBINATION

THIS INDEFATIGABLE PUBLIC SERVANT makes six investments, the largest week's work he does in the month. He loses 1 1/2 per cent. in Wabash, 1/2 in North Missouri, and 1/2 in Del. Lack. & W., making 3 1/2 per cent., and gains 1/2 in Del. & Hudson, 1/2 in Morris and Essex, and 1/2 in N. J. Central, a total of 1 per cent., leaving a balance of 2 1/2 per cent., for the twenty shares held here, represents a loss of $47.50, leaving the Nevada speculator high and dry, and $2.50 in debt. This disaster, as explained in a foot note, "is due to the unexpected turn in Wabash, and on which we had from some of our large shareholders who had means of information, but it seems were wrong as well as ourselves." There is no way to tell how stockholders would have fared if that "point" on Wabash had been correct. If this camp had been a little nearer home, a disbursement for the first month would have been more like money to have been made, the dealers trying to having the whole reinvested and more sent with it, but as no great amount of business could be gathered from such a distant point, the enterprising firm concluded to make hay while the sun shone, and raked in the whole pot.

HIT Birds Flutter.

From the number of angry men there were in Reno this morning, it looks as if every telegraph pole between here and Verdi had a team hitched to it the other evening, and that about 85 men jumped out the sagebrush in their shirt sleeves to hold their horses as the train went by. One young man with a white neck-tie, who had never been even thought of by the reporter, undertook to square accounts last night by resorting to his fists, but he found more than a match in the quill-driver. Several other citizens have given themselves away, as it were. Whither are we drifting?

Hoppers On The Move.

A heavy flight of grasshoppers passed over Boca going south last Monday. They looked like snowflakes or gossamer in the sun.

The Real Estate Market.

O. S. Martin has a fine list of houses, lots and business houses for sale. Read his ad.

HISTORY OF THE FISHERIES.

The Men Who Have Been Engaged in the Business Ever Since Reno Was Founded.

One of the fishermen awaiting sentence for pursuing his vocation on Pyramid Lake gave to a GAZETTE reporter yesterday a full history of that industry on the reservation. Briefly it is as follows: In April, 1877, Charles Bridgman went in with three or four men whom he paid for the fish they caught, which he hauled to market. He located his men at Mullen's Pass, about twenty miles from the mouth of the river. He dropped the business in July of the same year, and it was almost immediately taken up by Reed and Watson, who sold it out to Armstrong and Sturgeon in October.

THE NUMBER OF MEN

had increased with the demand for fish until from 18 to 25 were steadily employed. Flinn & Co., next handled the business, and they in turn sold out to Alfred Jose, in May, 1878. Parties under Reed, Bickford and John Whitehead had in the meantime come in and were fishing alongside of the first settlers. Their business was sold last year to Alfred Jose, who has since run the whole machine, hauling the fish out and the supplies in to the men himself, paying his men by the pound for their catch. Most of these men have families in Reno and go to the lake part of the year.

THEY ARE A VERY DIFFERENT CLASS of men from the average river fishermen, many of whom go very dirty and some of whom live with Indians, and whose avocation is at best precarious, as but few trout, comparatively, go up the river any distance, and then only for a small part of the year. At the lake the fish are taken systematically. The men built houses and boats and have considerable money invested. No "squaw man" ever lived at Mullen's Pass, or any where on Pyramid Lake and none of the Reno men indicted have ever defrauded the Indians or given them whiskey. The settlement is entirely

OUT OF REACH OF THE RESERVATION Indians, and they never go there nor have any intercourse with the fishermen. They have a superstitious fear of the lake, as they believe a serpent inhabits it who destroys their race, and they never venture out except with white men. There have been very few men who ever attempted to bring mahalas into the fishermen's camp. One of these was Tom Rogers, and he was run out of the settlement pretty much as he was out of Reno. At the head of the lake, near the mouth of the river, Leathers, who was formerly post trader, opened a fishing station and sold his fish to Rafael, at Wadsworth, who buys of Indians and white men alike. But the two settlements were miles apart, and their product went as indicated, one part to Reno and the rest to Wadsworth.

The Remenyi Concert.

The attendance at the Remenyi concert last night was very light, but the audience, though small, was enthusiastic and appreciative. It is to be regretted that this most deserving of troupes was not greeted with a full house. It is sure that those who failed to attend missed a rare entertainment, for Remenyi is certainly a wonderful artist. Under his hands the violin seems to become a thing of life. Responsive to the magic of his touch, the instrument sobs and laughs in strains of bewitching melody. The beholder is fairly enraptured by his marvelous execution. Duleken is a fine pianist, and his playing showed him to be a master of music; but the instrument in Kimball's is a very poor one, which marred the beauty of his execution. The singing of Miss Thurston was highly appreciated. The lady has a sweet and powerful voice, and her singing shows high musical culture.

No Property, No Division.

No crop will be raised on the reservation farm at Pyramid this year. This is a practical exemplification of the workings of communism. All the Indians have an interest in the crop after it is raised. Raising it, however, is an other matter. Those who work on the farm find that their kindred, who have been junketing around the towns all Summer, come back in the Fall to help eat up the crop. This creates a distaste in the Indians' mind for the teachings of Dennis Kearney. He is willing to become a sharer in any body else's possessions, but he has a rooted dislike to dividing his own with those who have none. As a consequence, he studiously avoids laying up anything, for fear that he may have to share it with some needy relative.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Hagerman came up on this morning's lightning train.

Sheriff Walker went to Carson this morning to serve some papers.

W. F. Edwards writes to a friend that his wife is dangerously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Hunter returned from a short visit to San Francisco this morning. Mr. Hunter purchased the new residence built by J. Isaac, and the trip below was made to buy the necessary furniture to finish it.

Another Improvement.

Lake & Beck are making use of every appliance to make their mill first-class. They propose to turn out as fine flour as can be ground anywhere. The water for soaking the grain will be pumped from a spring of very pure water underneath the mill.

NOTES FROM THE TIMBER.

Dull Times at Emigrant Gap—Mines, Mills, the Robertson Process, Summer Resorts, Etc.

Since the day when the track reached this place and the town of Emigrant Gap was discovered, it has never been so dull as it is at present. The railroad company is receiving no wood and the army of choppers has vanished. The lumber dealers below are selling redwood shingles instead of shakes, so that that industry has almost ceased. The lumber trade is very dull and the saw mills are idle. Only two saw mills in the mountains are doing anything. Ira Avery is running the Monumental, and S. Putnam his little mill below town. The Fall creek water mill, Calbertson & Willickers, Taylor & Pickens and Robertson have not turned a wheel all year. A few railroad ties are being gotten out and some cedar blocks, but nearly every one is off mining. This is making the dull town look even duller, and may be the calm before a perfect storm of prosperity. From the indications among the mines this is by no means impossible. R. S. Osborn and one or two others have been at work for some time on the "Osborn" lying on Diamond Creek, six miles north of here. The lodge crops out for over a thousand feet. A tunnel into it 10 feet is in gold ore assaying $50. Shafts are being dug to tap it on the surface. A Robertson furnace is being constructed and will be ready to roast in a week. It will have a capacity of 20 tons a day. The "Riverside" is on Little Bear valley, three miles west of here, owned by Robt. Watson. Smith and others have a four-stamp mill at work. The rock pays $18 per ton. Uncle Joe Gray of Truckee talks of building a ten-stamp mill and taking a share in the mine. The United States Government has a timber agent, named McDonald, here taking notes. He has been interviewing a man who filed a soldier's homestead on a piece of land between here and Blue Canon, and from the tone of his remarks it is thought he will make a close investigation of the cutting hereabouts. Blue Canon is very dull this Summer. Most of the tourists have gone past it to Tahoe, Soda Springs and Eureka. Emigrant Gap, Cal., July 22.

Henry Scintillates Again.

A well-known clergyman of Reno was called aside by Henry Johnson last evening, and his sympathetic ear confidentially shadowed by Henry's hat brim.

"I did something last Sunday night," said Henry, "that I haven't done before in fifteen years."

"Nothing very bad, I trust, Henry," said the preacher in a tone expressive of deep concern.

"Bad! No!" responded the martial Henry. "I went to church."

The delighted minister shook him warmly by the hand, and expressed his delight at Henry's return to the fold. "But," said the parson, "I didn't see you there Sunday night."

"There was a good reason for that," replied Henry, "I didn't go to your church."

The parson's enthusiasm seemed suddenly gone, and thoughtfully scratching his ill fed cheek, he silently withdrew.

Sneak Thief Robbery.

A sneak thief entered the residence of John Frazer, opposite the Pavilion, about 7 o'clock yesterday evening and stole a gold watch, from a vest hanging in the hall. Mr. Frazer was working in the garden, and had pulled off his vest and hung it in the hall. While it was there a tramp came in and asked for something to eat. A few minutes after he had gone Mr. Frazer missed the watch. The watch is of Swiss make with one crystal broken, and was attached to a silver chain. It is valued at $140.

An old Friend.

Pat. McCarty engineer at the Yellow Jacket shaft, who so heroically saved the lives of the miners by using a plank as a brake, learned his trade by firing a locomotive between Truckee and Wadsworth five or six years ago. He was married in Reno and on the road.

THE TWO GENTLEMEN OF RENO.

A Remarkable Adventure in the Wilds of Long Valley.

This being the season of the year when all who can spare the time throw off the cares of business life and seek a few days' pleasure in the mountains, two young Reno gentlemen jumped into a wagon and gathering up the lines started out with visions of grassy swards, and singing pines floating in their minds. After traveling about eight hours, under a scorching sun, with nothing but sagebrush and sun-baked rocks on every side, they began to feel like having their lunch, and in order that they might the better enjoy their crackers, cheese and beer, they seated themselves in

of a three-board fence, leaving their "beastie" unstrung in the middle of the road. Now this horse has the peculiarity of wanting to eat when he sees others eat, and his drivers neglecting to offer him any of the cheese or beer, he struck out at a lively pace for a hay stack he saw two and a half miles away. The movement was a great surprise to both the tourists, but the best runner (he of the long arm) immediately sprang for the lines, missing them a trifle, but fastening a death grip on the tail gate of the wagon. The horse had now gotten well under way and the towering form of the brave boy was flying round like a Union Jack in a gale. Nothing but feet could be seen through the clouds of dust, and the poor horse, now terror stricken, forgot the haystack and struck out for tail timber in the direction of Beckwith, the "whoa, whoa," which came out of

of coat-tails, neckties, legs and harness behind him whenever the pleasureseeker touched the ground only stimulating him to renewed bursts of speed. The mouth of the clinging picnicker, which was wide open all the way, was by this time full of gravel stones, horse hair, pieces of wagon bed, spokes, hay, etc., and his voice was lost in the roar. All seemed lost when a horseman appeared ahead who stopped the wild flight and helped the young man to unpack his mouth. The expedition ended right there, and the tourists are on their way home, where their lady friends are waiting to nurse them up and recruit their shattered nervous systems.

BENEFICENT BARK.

The New Cure For Drunkenness—The Cinchona Rubra—Its Merits Discussed by a Secret Society of Reno.

The cure of drunkenness has for a long time been a subject of research with the man who does the philosophical writing for the Bulletin. That careful journal now gives the weight of its authority to the statement that the bark known to druggists as the Cinchona Rubra, is a specific cure for drunkenness. This drug has the power to destroy the thirst for liquor, and if taken regularly, for a long enough period, will kill the appetite for liquor right out of a man. The bibulous of Reno have been much interested in the discovery, and its importance has received a general acknowledgment. Last Monday evening, a highly informal meeting of some of the "Truly Temperate Club" was held in the rooms of the association. The matter was then discussed, and a golden goblet, containing a decoction of the rare bark, was tasted by all present, and carefully noted. A committee was appointed to thoroughly investigate the nature of the new remedy, and to report upon its practical value to the society. The committee last evening submitted the following report: "Your committee has made a careful inquiry into the nature and medicinal properties of the Cinchona Rubra. We find that taken in small quantities with liquor, its effect is to destroy the inclination for an immediate second glass. In large quantities, unqualified with spirits, it is bitter and nauseating in the extreme; and in the opinion of your committee, could never become popular as a steady drink. But as a preventative of drunkenness, we would recommend its general use for the flavoring for drinks. In cocktails its beneficial action is especially remarked. Used in the manner recommended the bark cannot fail to greatly help the cause of 'true temperance,' and to effect a great economy in the matter of drinks. In conclusion, your committee hopes that are long the call for 'rye and bark' may be as familiar as is now the cry for 'whiskey straight.'"

Partner Wanted.

A live man of good habits with $10,000 or $25,000 in ready cash, wanted for a partner: would sell half of my ready stock on hand and business for a term of years, or half of my real estate, stock on hand and business. A business that will pay $15,000 per year if properly attended to.

WHY STAY POOR?

Prospecting often Pays; Idleness Never.

The millions of the Comstock were a lucky find. Worthless looking rock is often rich in treasure. At Leadville a simple assayer made millions of many. Other bonanzas where least suspected await the coming of some unknown man. Who is he?

At Virginia City, Nevada, assays for Gold and Silver are made at $1.00 per sample, by CONRAD WIEGAND, formerly the Superior Assayer of the U. S. Mint at San Francisco.

The mill will carry ore-samples to his office for one cent per ounce.

Reports which may be relied on absolutely, come back by return mail, or results are telegraphed when ordered so.

All costs, delays, and risks in remitting money are avoided by the purchase of our Dollar Remittance Certificate, which pay for all work done in our establishment.
